Friends here are listening with interest to talk about Sheriff Charles A. Ayer's nomination for congress by republicans in this district.

Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer is authority for the statement that the Jamaica ginger drunks that he is regularly called upon to arrest or remove from premises where they are not wanted are fighting demons. In one case one of these drunks held a chair over his head with one hand while he drank a bottle of the liquor fire with another and the chair, which was a stool, was used to threaten the sheriff to come and get him. The invitation was accepted.

Good progress is being made in preparing the plant of the Peco Manufacturing company for operation, and it is expected that machinery will be running and goods in course of making there by the end of July.

Jacob Hope, 48, is listed as among the persons injured in an accident in which the Owl express sidwheeped a freight train near the Flower street crossing in Hartford during the early hours of Thursday morning.

PUTNAM

It has just become known here that Dr. William Blaine Oliver, a local dentist, and Miss Beatrice Tripp, a graduate nurse, who has been one of the nurses at the Day Kimball Hospital, were married today. The bride is the daughter of Rev. Charles L. Scott, brother-in-law of the bride. The couple spent their honeymoon in Atlantic City and have but recently returned to Putnam. The following is from the Atlantic City Gazette-Review:

"Dr. and Mrs. Blaine Oliver of Putnam, Conn., are spending their honeymoon at Glen Hall, coming directly here from Philadelphia, where they were married by the bride's brother-in-law, the Rev. Charles L. Scott of the Church of the Resurrection. Mrs. Oliver prior to her marriage was Miss Beatrice Tripp, a graduate nurse."

"They were accorded a warm reception by Atlantic City friends upon their arrival here and a number of entertainments are being planned for them."

Dr. Oliver was overcast with an artillery rain and saw action on the Argonne front."

Several Putnam men were involved Friday in a strike of members of a work train crew that have been employed in Webster, struck for an advance to 25 cents from 40 cents an hour and for an eight hour day. The headquarters of the work train are in this city and the laborers employed upon it have been known for some time past their desire for better pay.

Traffic on the Norwich and Worcester branch of the New Haven system was blocked Thursday at Oxford by an accident caused by the backing of one freight train into another. No one was hurt in the accident. Edward Bruce of this city was engineer of train 384 southbound into which freight train No. 255 crashed. The caboose of one train was smashed between two engines and the headlight of the engine of train 384 was torn off and caused it to check end of the caboose and the tender on engine 395 was badly jammed in. The shock of the collision carried the caboose along 100 feet damaging the roadbed. Train 395 was hauling a ditcher and digger that was working in the cut where the accident occurred. Roadmaster Thomas Rawley of this city went to Oxford and supervised the work of clearing the wreck.

Judge George E. Hinman of Willimantic will come here Monday to hold a special session of the superior court at which motions in the case of Miss Gertrude A. Wardell vs. the town of Killingly will be argued by counsel. The case is an interesting particular interest in the neighboring town.

The Jamaica ginger trade is expanding with such startling rapidity and such probability of dire consequences in this and surrounding towns that officials have been requested to find some legal method for checking the illicit traffic in a liquid that is being used chiefly as a beverage for an intoxicating nature.

State Officer Howard Elliott was asked Friday to investigate as to the ownership of a car that, apparently, had been abandoned near the home of Herbert Owens. The finding of this car, taken in connection with the fact that officers here were asked Friday morning to look for a car stolen in Massachusetts and believed to have been brought into this section was creating interest in official circles.

The Colored Giants of New Haven, a remarkably fast team of professional and semi-professional baseball players will line up against Tom McDermott's team at North Grosvenordale Sunday afternoon. Lee Ching, the only Chinese player in the east, will be at first base for the visitors. This is the team that was to have come into this section earlier in the season, but a cancellation of the date was necessary on account of rain. Manager McDermott will oppose the Giants with a team that has been going at a great clip this season.

The eighty-third anniversary, Ashford Baptist Sunday school convention, and the one hundredth anniversary of the Eastern Baptist Sunday school, will be held in the Ashford Baptist church in North Ashford, in the town of Eastford, next Wednesday. The officers of the association are: President, Willis P. Winsfield, First Mansfield; vice president, Geo. A. Bowen, Willimantic; secretary, Raymond E. Allen, Danielson. The Sunday schools and their badge colors are: Brooklyn, light blue and white; Danielson, red, Eastford, light yellow; Killingly, East, yellow and white; Mansfield, Eber Dunham Memorial, red and blue; Mansfield, First, white; Putnam, pink; Stafford, orange; Thompson, Central, light blue; Thompson, East, red and white; Wargenville, dark blue; Willimantic, Nile green; Willington, purple; Willington, South, orange and black; Woodstock, Second, pink and white.
